Badenoch & Clark joins Adecco Group in Luxembourg

Luxembourg, January 20th, 2010 - Adecco, the world's leading provider of HR solutions, today announced the integration of the Luxembourg branch of Badenoch & Clark in its Luxembourg Professional Staffing activities. This integration results from the recent conclusion of the acquisition of MPS Group by Adecco. MPS Group, a leading provider of specialty staffing, consulting and business solutions, has been present in Luxembourg through the company Badenoch & Clark, which specializes in recruitment for the financial industry. The integration reinforces Adecco Group's position on the Luxembourg Professional Staffing market.

Since 1994, Adecco Group has been present in the Luxembourg Professional Staffing market through Ajilon. Ajilon is a company providing specialized HR services for industries including Finance & Legal, Office, Engineering and Information Technology. The expertise of Ajilon is now complemented with that of Badenoch & Clark, which has acquired a solid reputation over the years in the recruitment of financial experts in Luxembourg.

The expertises of Badenoch & Clark and Ajilon should strengthen the position of the Adecco Group on the Luxembourg market of Professional Staffing. Both companies will continue to operate independently. The integration of the back offices should bring profitable synergies.

"HR services for specialized jobs through Professional Staffing and other services are becoming increasingly important in the market," said Mark De Smedt, Country Manager Adecco Belgium & Luxembourg. "The integration of Badenoch & Clark represents a significant opportunity to realise our objectives for sustainable growth of our Professional Staffing activity in Luxembourg."

Next to its Professional Staffing activities in Luxembourg, Adecco Group is active in general staffing through Adecco Luxembourg, offering services such as temping, pre-recruitment, contract management and interim management.
