ATOZ Tax Advisers extends its ESG service offering with the integration of Deveco Sustainability

ATOZ Tax Advisers, Luxembourg tax advisory firm, announces the acquisition of Deveco Sustainability, Luxembourg-based strategic and operational consulting firm in sustainable development and corporate social responsibility founded in 2017.

As impacts of environmental, social, and governance (ESG) developments in the market became increasingly apparent across clients and businesses, whether they are investment funds, private equity groups or real estate structures, discussions led to the conclusion that, as a firm, ATOZ was to further develop service offerings to best meet growing and rapidly evolving sustainability needs for both today and looking to the future.

Mike van Kauenbergh, CEO, and his team are bringing over 10 years of targeted ESG experience and a thorough understanding of operational activity, based on a proof-of-concept approach. This acquisition is a strategic step in both ATOZ and Deveco's journeys, allowing for the possibility to develop an increased range of services, going above and beyond the basic ESG compliance needs and requirements, ensuring a true value-add partnership across all parties.

"We are excited to welcome Mike and his staff into the ATOZ family. The Deveco team shares our vision for the future, and fully understands the complexity of the evolving ESG landscape. Our mutual service offering responds to a real client need," states Keith O'Donnell, Managing Partner, ATOZ Tax Advisers.

Mike van Kauenbergh comments "Joining forces with ATOZ reflects a true reinforcement for both of our businesses. I see that ATOZ and Deveco come from the same entrepreneurial DNA, seeing the possibilities in helping our clients navigate the dense ESG landscape beyond the simple check-list compliance matters."
